

Write Ideas for Moving Picture Plays

YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25.00 OR MORE WEEKLY

We Will Show You How

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

You Will Earn $100.00 Monthly for Spare Time Work.

FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING."

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write NOW and learn just what this new profession may mean for you and your future.

College Athletics.

The question of athletics is becoming so much a feature of the colleges, and is becoming the fruitful source of so much contention, that a more satisfactory and uniform code of rules and regulations has become necessary. The universities of the country have made their athletic superiority so pronounced, that excellence in this department has come to be regarded as far more important than excellence in the college curriculum. If Yale can beat Harvard in the annual boat race; or Princeton can beat Columbia in the Thanksgiving football contest, the winners seem to think the college it represents has maintained its reputation as a source of scholastic superiority for another twelve months at least. The smaller colleges and State Universities, scattered over the country, have caught the same spirit of emulation, and with it the same bickerings and dissatisfaction. It would appear to one outside of the influence of college life and environment that the present situation has grown so tense, and the feelings annually engendered so acute, that, unless some tribunal can be established, to the ruling of which all must yield, the result to the college and the student body in general, must soon, if it has not already become, productive of far more harm than good. Certainly some rule of eligibility ought to be devised that would make simple the right of any matriculate to play in a given game or on a given team, and certainly some body can be organized to which all disputes can be referred, with the understanding their decisions are to be final.

The disagreeable season through which the State University has passed, and through which it is still passing, finds its origin, not in the college curriculum, but wholly in the athletic branch, and seems to be traceable to the eligibility of one or two boys to play on the football team. Certain rulings from some sort of tribunal, have been repudiated by the student body, which, coupled with certain personal antagonisms and jealousies, has brought confusion and disorganization into the whole institution, resulting in incendiary charges and counter-charges that have occupied the time of the courts for the past two weeks.

Some plan can and must be devised that will make impossible a repetition of present conditions here and elsewhere. Either athletics must be brought under a satisfactory system of control, applying to all college associations, and made subservient to the college curriculum, or athletics must be eliminated. Students must be made to know they will have to conform to established rules, and if they do not be treated in some such summary way as to teach them that disobedience means expulsion. The storm of rebellion may be central over Lexington just at this time, but it will soon move to some other point, and produce exactly the same conditions. We urgently suggest the necessity for immediate action by the whole college fraternities of the country.—Lexington Herald.

Can Babies Be Sent By Parcel Post Route?

The mailing of babies by parcel post is a real infant industry, which Postmaster General Hitchcock is asked to foster.

In the circumstances of his bachelorhood, Mr. Hitchcock is considering seriously the calling into consultation of experts in the transportation of babies, as a letter which he received last week presents to him a mail problem with which he is quite unfamiliar. To add to his embarrassment the letter contains a note of pathos which appeals strongly to the postmaster general.

This is the letter identically as it was phrased and punctuated:

THE LETTER.
"Ft. McPherson, Ga., Jan. 16, 1913. "Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.

"Sir—I have been corresponding with a party in Pennsylvania about getting a baby to raise (Our home being without One.) May I ask what specifications to use in wrapping so it (baby) would comply with regulations and be allowed shipment by parcel post as the express co., are so rough in handling.

"Yours,
"_____"

The name signed to the letter is withheld at the request of Mr. Hitchcock.

As babies, in the opinion of the Postmaster General, do not fall within the category of bees and bugs—the only live things that may be transported by mail, he is apprehensive he may be of assistance to his correspondent.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Mt. Sterling Citizens Testify for Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Mt. Sterling citizen, given in her own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders of any form of kidney illness, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Mt. Sterling citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.
Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. Laura Willoughby, 17 Strother Street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "It is a pleasure to tell of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills as they always give entire satisfaction. I had pains through my back and kidneys and at times I was dizzy and nervous. At night I was restless and mornings was weak and tired. A neighbor advised the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from Duerson's Drug Store and their use gave me great relief. I now feel better in every way."

OLD POLISH CUSTOM REVIVED

Imposing but Somewhat Extravagant Idea May Catch the Fancy of Fickle People of Paris.

Paris is threatened with the revival of an old custom that was formerly in vogue in Poland. When the lord of a castle invited his friends to dine in his baronial hall, he emphasized his lavish hospitality by throwing all the silver and plate used on his table into the well filled moat after the meal, thus assuring his guests that they should never be asked to eat again from the same dishes.

The modern adaptation of this fantastic lordly whim is to invite one's guests to sit down at a table whereon nothing but the flowers, the table decoration and the napkins may be seen. As soon as the guests are seated a bevy of servants, presumably one for each guest, bring in the plates, glasses, knives and forks, etc.

Of course this could only be done with a very large staff of servants, directed by a butler who was a genius. If somewhat troublesome and rather odd, it would, no doubt, be very imposing; but it is a novelty which can never take the place of the studied elegance and refinement of a table that has been arranged beforehand with care and art.

STAGING A PLAY

"I can give you the part of a butler."

"I couldn't take a small part like that."

"You are evidently not used to society dramas. The butler has his share of the epigrams."

LESSER EVIL.

Even when there is an undercurrent of reality the stream of Irish humor flows smoothly. A man walking along a country road met a peasant driving a wretched-looking donkey, with a load of turf that seemed to tax the strength of the unfortunate animal to its utmost.

"Why," said the man, "you ought to be taken up for cruelty to animals for loading the ass so heavily as that."

"Begorra, sir," said the peasant, who was on his way to the market town to sell the turf, "begorra, if I didn't do that I'd be took up for cruelty to a wife and six childer."—Weekly Telegraph, London.

FASHION'S CHANGE.

"I remember you cured me of this same trouble a dozen years ago. Why don't you use the same treatment now?"

"A dozen years ago?" echoed the doctor. "My dear sir, the medical profession has made wonderful strides since then, and I couldn't think of such a thing."—Puck.

LITTLE POVERTY IN SERBIA.

Though the progress of Serbia has been disappointing, said to be due in a considerable measure to the fact that the country has been afflicted with two native dynasties, yet poverty is almost unknown. The peasantry is prosperous, almost all being small land owners and quite well-to-do.

MOSTLY FINANCIAL.

Tommy—Pop, what are the circumstances that alter cases?

Tommy's Pop—Financial circumstances, as a rule, my son.

ONE SIDED.

Gibbs—It's easy to trade your reputation for money.

Dibbs—Yes, but you are up against it if you want to trade back.

AT WORK.

Patience—Did he ever try working to music?

Patrice—Sure thing; he's a dancing teacher.

It Helps!

Mrs. J. F. Daniels, of Sip, Ky., writes: "I was so sick for 3 or 4 years, I had to hire my work done, most of the time. I had given up hope. When I began to take Cardui, I knew, right away, it was helping me. Now, I am better than ever before in my life, and Cardui did it."

The Parcel Post and The Express Companies.

The express companies, of all the great monopolies, have been the most arrogant. One of the largest of the companies has already announced its intention to cut its rates to meet the established postal rates, this too, in face of the fact that it has maintained a lobby at Washington for years for no other purpose than to defeat any parcel post legislation, and to do so, representing that its own business would not admit of a reduction in rates. The suggestion of Postmaster General Hitchcock that the Government should purchase the express companies and control the entire express carriage business through the parcel post, ought not to be received with favor. Why should the government expend millions of dollars to buy something that exists only in name? What the express companies do the government cannot do! If the people of the country have been compelled to bear the extortions of the express companies for years, is that any reason why the government should now pay an enormous sum to have them retire from business? They must of necessity retire anyway in a few years. Already their stock has declined a full fifty per cent. It must decline even more. The express business is passing from private to public control. It may be an entering wedge for like control of the telegraph and telephone business, but these are not so naturally the subject of governmental control as the express business, which is only an enlargement of the postal facilities. The express companies alone are to blame. So arbitrary had they become that toleration was no longer possible, and whatever discomfiture may come upon them, the regrets of the public will be few. When the government established the postal savings system it paid nothing to the banks; and when it established the special delivery it paid nothing to the telegraph companies, and there are now existing no just reasons why it should pay the express companies millions for nothing. It is to be hoped that Mr. Hitchcock's suggestion may not be entertained.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala. 1m
